

Picture Day

School is in full swing in the states and Haiti, too. We are beyond grateful that 26 boys have the opportunity for another year of school. Midley has started his first year of an electrical trade school and the other boys range from preschool to highschool. Please continue to pray for Emson as the Bridge staff walk alongside him to find the best fit for him for university.

Along with another school year comes picture days. In the past weeks, social media feeds have been filled with posts of school pictures. Hopefully, this week your inbox was filled with a picture of your sponsored boy. If you have not yet received one, please contact us. Below are just a few of our favorites. I know my sons were thrilled to receive the picture of our boy wearing the shirt purchased for him and holding the toy that was sent. Child sponsorship not only makes a difference in the life of the sponsored child, but in the lives of those who sponsor as well. Thank you for realizing the importance of child sponsorship.

Security

Over the last year, the boys' home experienced several incidents of poisoning and attempting to poison the guard dogs and a break in where parts were stolen from the van making it unusable. Because of these situations, at the beginning of the year the Haitian board prayed, researched, and discerned that it would be best to increase security at the boys' home. The safety of the boys, the staff, and team members while in Haiti is a priority for L&G. We had a donor come forward to cover half of the $500 monthly payment for the security this year. We cannot put a price on the safety of our L&G family, but we are asking you to consider how you might be able to give towards this cause. First, we are hoping to receive $3,000 in one-time donations to cover the other half of the security costs for 2018 and we are hoping to receive an increase of $250 in monthly sponsorships to cover the second half of the ongoing monthly security costs. Would you consider giving a one-time donation to the security costs? Would you consider becoming a sponsor or increasing your current sponsorship? See below for two opportunities to give towards this cause in November. Thanks for your prayers and support.
